

MANCHESTER

And then it rained—some more. J. Dudley Wright was in town for a short time the latter part of last week.

Roger O'Brien of East Arlington, was a visitor in this village Saturday of last week.

Mayor Bert L. Stafford of Rutland was in Manchester Thursday in attendance at court.

Chas. C. Kinney is in Danby working for E. H. Beebe, who has the contract for the erection of a house there.

Miss Bertha I. Cross of Keene, N. H., is making a visit to her mother, Mrs. Minnie Cross at her home on Franklin Avenue.

Mr. Foster's Remembrance Shop, next door to Equinox Hotel, is now open for business. Come in and look around.

Earl S. Hurley of Bennington, is assisting in the Journal office during the summer vacation from Bennington High School.

Miss Cecile Conroy of Arlington, was a recent guest in town of Miss Bertha Cross. She came up to attend the Cross-Kelley wedding.

Miss Marion L. Bennett is entertaining her friend from childhood, Miss Edna Raymond of Rutherford, N. J., who arrived on Monday afternoon.

W. A. Barber and family, who for several seasons past have occupied one of Miss Fowler's cottages, has rented "Brookside" of Mrs. F. G. Strong for the summer.

William Benner was up from New York City over Sunday with his family, who are located in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Way in this village for the summer.

J. E. Haslam, steward at the Equinox House, arrived for the season on Thursday last and will remain for the rest of the summer. Mr. Haslam is steward at the Hotel Lorraine during the balance of the year.

Payson S. Wild of Chicago, is expected here this week, he coming from Chicago to attend the 25th anniversary of his graduation at Williams College. While here he will be a guest of Mrs. J. N. Hard.

The pupils of the grammar school in this village with perfect attendance for the spring term are: Marguerite Lyon, Sylvia Lyon, Ann Lathrop, Violet Wright, Ruth Holden, Robert Coy, Chester Botsford, Mrs. H. Chapman, teacher.

Children belonging to the Band of Mercy, and any other children interested in humane work, are invited to meet at the house of Mrs. F. C. Williams on Saturday afternoon, June 24, at 2:30 o'clock to talk over plans for the lawn party and a play.

A. C. McCord and family of Chicago, Ill., have arrived at "The Cascades" for the summer. This is their first summer in Manchester and we hope that they will be so charmed with its beauties that they will wish to make it their permanent summer abiding place.

Among those from out of town here to attend the Junior Alumni Banquet was Miss Anna Westphalen of the class of 1911. She was the only member of her class here and she made the trip here on purpose to attend. While here Miss Westphalen stopped at the Equinox House, her home being in Springfield, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Rise of New Orleans, La., arrived last Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. N. Hard where they will remain during the summer. Mr. Rise is not in very good health and they were obliged to get away from their southern home on account of the extreme heat they had there, but which they did not bring with them.

Mrs. Chas. E. Buck, Miss Anna Buck and Paul Buck of this village, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Rowe of Manchester Center, were in Rutland on Tuesday to attend the marriage of Mrs. Buck's oldest son, Walter C. Buck of Schenectady, N. Y., to Miss Harriet Bates Barrett of Rutland. Mr. and Mrs. Buck will make their home in Schenectady where Mr. Buck is located in the employ of the General Electric Company.

County court took a recess until Tuesday, the 27th inst., at which time it is expected that the matter of the Peru Turnpike will be taken up. Several matters were disposed of last week. The case of State vs. Hartwell was finished by the respondent pleading guilty to breaking and entering the home of Leroy Woodward in Landgrove and stealing clothing and other articles. Hartwell was sentenced to not less than three years nor more than four years at hard labor at Windsor prison. Young Waite, who was also held, plead guilty, is under a suspended sentence and on probation. Merritt Culver, who shot at J. D. Purdy and killed one of Purdy's horses, was sent to Waterbury for observation, while Chauncey Vanderburg, the colored boy forger from Bennington, was also placed on probation. Several divorce cases were heard but the decisions have not been announced.

At the Sunday morning service at St. Paul's Church Rev. Fr. Kelly gave his parishioners an unlooked for surprise in announcing that his term as priest of this and the Arlington parish, would terminate this week, and that the address which he then gave was his farewell address, he having been sent to St. Raphael's Church in Poulitney, as successor to Rev. Fr. P. J. Barrett, who had resigned on account of his health. This is not the first time that Bishop Rice has sought to honor Fr. Kelly by promoting him to a larger parish, but Fr. Kelly, after a residence here of nearly 12 years, had felt loath to leave his friends here, but feels now that he has this parish in such shape that he can well afford to rest upon his well earned laurels. In the eleven and a half years he has ministered here and in Arlington he has freed St. Paul's and St. Columban's Churches from their debts, has built an extensive addition to the former and purchased a house for the priest at the latter, also leaving substantial balances in the bank to the credit of both institutions. He will leave the last of the week and preach his first sermon in his new parish next Sunday morning.

The marriage of Dr. Albion A. Cross, son of Mrs. Minnie Cross, of this village, who is located in Williamstown, Vt., as a practicing physician, and Miss Anna V. Kelley of Dorset, was solemnized at St. Paul's Church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Bernard Kelly. Dr. Cross is a graduate of Burr and Burton Seminary as is Mrs. Cross. Later on the doctor graduated from the medical department of U. V. M., while Mrs. Cross took up the occupation of trained nurse, doing her hospital work in Keene, N. H. Mrs. Cross is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kelley of Dorset, and is well known here in this village having attended the Seminary for four years with her twin sister, Miss Alice V. Kelley, now of New York City, and who was present at the wedding as maid of honor, with Miss Bertha I. Cross, a sister of the groom and Beatrice Lemieux of Rutland as bride's maids. The groom was attended by Warren Cummings of Barre, Vt., as best man. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kelley of Dorset. Dr. and Mrs. Cross are in New York City on their wedding trip.

How Did it Come There?

They hadn't been married very long when one evening Mr. Jones came home to find his bride in tears. "My darling!" he exclaimed in dismay. "Whatever has happened—Oh, don't weep like that. Tell your husband what is wrong." "O-o-h, John!" she gasped as she choked back her sobs. "I—o-o-h I've lost my diamond engagement ring!" And again she buried her face in her handkerchief. Then the silence roused her curiosity and she looked up to see her husband smiling strangely at her. "Don't cry," he said in level tones; "I found it this morning in my trousers pocket!"—New York Globe.

An exhibition of about 30 square yards of work done in the several schools was hung on the walls of the auditorium. The exhibit was of a very high grade. It included material on the following subjects: Writing, arithmetic, geography, spelling, language and grammar, nature study and drawing. The Band of Mercy had its part in the school exhibit. Four bird-houses and a poster telling of the Band's work for sick and unfortunate children, and for birds and animals, were on view, and were inspected by many of the visitors. Acknowledgments are due William Graham, Jr., the Misses Carrie Provan and Madeline Davis, and to Robert Brewster, for the workmanlike and artistic bird-houses they sent to the exhibit. Thanks are also extended, by those especially interested in the Band, to Charles S. Robinson for his advice and assistance in the arrangement, and to Mr. Whittier and the teachers for their kind co-operation.

After the exercises of the day nearly all the adults remained to look over the exhibits and expressed themselves as highly pleased with the entire exhibit.

Supt. J. D. Whittier hopes to have the exhibit again shown at the Manchester Fair Grounds in September if arrangements can be made with those having this branch of the work in charge.

The following is the committee of teachers who worked with Supt. J. D. Whittier to make arrangements for the contest and school exhibit, and they are entitled to much credit for their painstaking work: Miss Mildred Marshall, Manchester Center, chairman; Miss Edith Bourn, Manchester Depot; Miss Catherine Cheney, Manchester; Miss Hazel Crossman, Manchester Depot.
